President's Message –Helen Armstrong

Our July speaker

Les Twentyman, our speaker last month, gave us an insight into another part of the world we don't really know about: the young and homeless and the lack of social workers. It must be hard to remain focussed and positive day after day, dealing with these kids: and, it's a problem that isn't going away. Fortunately we have people like Les to take on this task.

Our Jamie Olivers

I made a request a couple of months ago for all of our budding Jamie Oliver gentlemen chefs to share your manly version of your favourite recipes. Have not been exactly inundated with responses; none really. So come on you Probus men dig deep and share your favourites.

Good results we hope

Back in May, we participated in a bowel scan project and hopefully all those members who participated have received a good result.We need to look after ourselves as we grow older gracefully or better still, disgracefully.

Well I don't know how members are coping with the cold-cold winter. These bones are not used to 2degrees C. It seems many years since we have had this old fashioned winter.
I have even resorted to flannelette sheets which is a new experience for me. It is called desperation. But, of course we still need more rain, leaving us with the chore of watering the garden when necessary only on certain days.

Newsletter withdrawal symptoms

To our Newsletter editor extraordinaire, Doug Hayne I must mention that I have been having withdrawal symptoms missing my half hour sit down with a coffee and our newsletter to catch up on all and everything that has been happening. Of course it was the committee that gave you the month off. Does it mean you were missed? Yes, not only the newsletter but yourself and Elaine. Along with everyone else I am pleased to see you both return safely. Welcome back.

OK Guys & Gals don't forget – Fun, Fun, Fun.

Craft Group grant

The craft group led by Yvonne Boyall tendered a submission to the committee for a grant of $200 for the materials to make pillows and drainage bags for oncology patients at the Box Hill Hospital. These pillows and drainage bags will be given to patients who have had breast surgery. It was decided unanimously by the committee to approve the grant of $200 to the craft group. Keep up the good work girls.

Events - Elaine Hayne

Last Month

Eighteen members enjoyed the vist to Carlton &United Breweries.
All members suitably attired with closed shoes and full of expectations were met by Roz, our tour guide for the morning. After a talk on the pro's and con's for making a good beer we were escorted to our bus for the start of the factory tour. Arrived in the brew house and after hiking up an unsurmountable number of steps we were able to view the massive vats used in the making of the lords' health drink, stinking hot but necessary for the making of such fine beveridges. On to the dispatch area where the goods are placed on trucks for delivery to various stores and storage area's.

Also viewed the bottling and packaging area where up to 1000 bottles are processed per hour and then on to the best part, the tastings room!

Had four tastings each, went down extremely well, ended up by not being as drunck as thinkle peek I am.

Great visit, enjoyed by all who attended.

Meet First Wednesday of the Month at 7.30pm

On 1st of August Ron McBain and Wayne Eames showed their latest version of the "club events show" for this months meeting. We were fortunate to have the loan of a data projector from the Photography Studies College for the evening. We were all very pleased with the results with only a few small changes. We believe you will be delighted with the results.

Wayne and Wilma then showed us their "holiday shows" complete with appropriate music and titles. Both shows were well received.

Newsletter

Newsletter deadline for September issue is Noon on Sunday 2nd September.

We are publishing an updated member phone contact list in the September Newsletter. Please let me know if you don't wish to have your name and phone number published in the Newsletter.

Thanks to the committee for deciding to allow the suspension of the July newsletter. I had planned to issue it from London using my friends' computer (with their approval) but as we arrived, their computer "went down" and in fact, remained down for the duration of our stay with them.

Fortune smiled on me. Apologies for any inconvenience to members.

A bug must have been following us to UK as our other friends in Norfolk needed my advice in buying a new TV set as theirs had anticipated my visit and went to its reward as we arrived.

Doug

Going to Wimbledon – Elaine Hayne

One of the objectives we had when travelling to UK in June was to go to Wimbledon for the Tennis. You can only get seats in the main arenas by going into a ballot before the December prior to the event. We and our friends in London all put into the ballot but did not get seats. However, we decided to brave the "infamous" queues to get ground passes for the day on the second day which was the Tuesday. We got on the tube to Southfields station on the Wimbledon line and the tennis centre is about 15 minutes walk from there. At around 10am we easily found the large paddock (field) that the queues were being assembled in. You don't just get in the queue, you get a ticket and go to an assembly area where batches of about 100 people at a time are entered into the queue. We entered the queue when our turn came after about 20 minutes. You can get food and there are toilets you can use, as your queue position is ticketed, there are no problems keeping your position if you "need to go". We were reassured by the English gentlemen volunteer queue managers, that we would be inside before noon. And they were right. The 2 hours in the queue was a pleasant time with geniality among fans and we all got quite friendly. The fine weather that day helped with the enjoyment. After a thorough police security check we ambled up to the ticket office and paid our eighteen pounds ($45.00) and we were in there. A great day, no crowding at all, and with patience I was able to get a seat and watch Sam Stosur win her heat. We also saw Wayne Arthurs' winning heat against the Dutchman Thiemo De Bakker which went to a long 5 setter. We saw (on the big screen) Tim Hendon win his marathon (13 11) 5th set win over Carlos Moya on Centre Court. Strawberries and cream, plastic cups of Pimms and good beer for Doug (after his Strawberries & Pimms) made sure our experience of the wonderful atmosphere of Wimbledon would be a memorable one. Highly recommended in good weather and the queuing is no hassle whatsoever, in fact all part of the experience. Elaine

John Wilson

Profile – Jenny Morcom

I was born at Korumburra, in Gippsland, in 1946 the only child of Bill and Glad Adair. I spent my first 6 years in this area before moving with my parents to Port Albert when my parents took over the licensee of the Port Albert Hotel. I remember this being a busy fishing port and occasionally being taken out on the shark boats. However, l did not have good sea legs and have memories of making friends with a bucket below decks. To this day l still do not have 'sea legs' when on anything that is not stablised.

The family moved to Melbourne in 1954 and we lived in North Carlton where l remained until I moved to Bulleen in 1971.

I met Graham (who was in the Army) in 1965 and the poor man took on board teaching me to drive. I had the most trouble trying to engage the clutch and accelerator without 'kangarooing' that eventually when l got it right l did not want to stop for fear of going through the whole process again. However, as he was sent to northern Queensland with the Army, l went and got my licence through a driving school.

At the completion of my education I worked in offices mostly on the front desk and when l worked for a building company in North Melbourne my drivers licence came in very handy for l was often sent out to the various sites with urgent information for the site manager.

I caught up again with Graham when he returned to Melbourne prior to being sent to Vietnam in April 1966.

This was a difficult time because of the 'peace marches' and one thing l do remember is that l very rarely told anyone outside my immediate circle that l was going out with a soldier.

Upon his return in 1967 we became engaged and married in March 1968. He left the Army in 1970 and commenced working for 'Comcar' where had a very eventful 24 years.

Helen, our first child, was born in May 1971, Susan (dec) in October 1973 and Philip in November 1975.

I returned to part time employment in 1986 and worked for a marketing company. This was when l had to learn all about computers and l found this very challenging. Because we all know (I'm sure) that our children, who are such wizards at this, give us instructions so quickly that at the end of a session with them one is so confused and still at a lost of how the system really works. To this day my children still like to 'challenge' me because recently they bought me a new computer and even though l said it must be Microsoft compatible they have got me an 'Apple Macintosh'….!!!!! So l am still learning. I retired at the end of 2000 to look after my mother.

I had my first overseas trip in 1999 with our daughter to see our son who was backpacking around Europe and managed to see heaps in the six weeks l was away. I travelled to China in 2002 with a group from badminton and l look forward to seeing more of the world.

My hobbies are sewing, reading, lunching with friends, enjoying Probus and playing badminton. The last activity has been ongoing for many years and l am quite involved with the running of the local badminton club. This has been another 'challenge' and one from which l am constantly learning.

Definitions

- Nuclear Bomb -: An invention to end all inventions
- Boss: Someone who arrives early when you are late and late when you arrive early.
- Classic: A book which people praise but do not read.

Male or Female?

You might not have known this, but a lot of non-living objects are actually either male or female.
Here are some examples:

FREEZER BAGS: - male, because they hold everything in, but you can see right through them.

HAMMERS: - male, because in the last 5000 years, they've hardly changed at all, and are occasionally handy to have around.

THE REMOTE CONTROL: - female. Ha! You probably thought it would be male, but consider this: It easily gives a man pleasure, he'd be lost without it, and while he doesn't always know which buttons to push, he just keeps trying.

PHOTOCOPIERS: - female, because once turned off, it takes a while to warm them up again. They are also an effective reproductive device if the right buttons are pushed, but can also wreak havoc if you push the wrong buttons.

TYRES: - male, because they go bald easily and are often over inflated.

HOT AIR BALLOONS: - male because to get them to go anywhere, you have to light a fire under their bum.

SPONGES: - female, because they are soft, squeezable and retain water.

WEB PAGES:-female, because they're constantly being looked at and frequently getting hit on.

TRAINS: - definitely male, because they always use the same old lines for picking up people.
EGG TIMERS: - female because, over time, all the weight shifts to the bottom.

The ultimate cultural test

On a group of beautiful deserted islands in the middle of nowhere, the following group of people are stranded after a shipwreck.

- Two Italian men and one Italian woman.
- Two French men and one French woman.
- Two German men and one German woman.
- Two Greek men and one Greek woman.
- Two English men and one English woman.
- Two Bulgarian men and one Bulgarian woman,
- Two Japanese men and one Japanese woman.
- Two Chinese men and one Chinese woman.
- Two American men and one American woman.
- Two Irish men and one Irish woman.

One month later the following things have occurred.:

- One Italian man has killed the other Italian man for the Italian woman.
- The two French men and the French woman are living happily together in a ménage-a-trios
- The two German men have a strict weekly schedule of alternating visits with the German woman.
- The two Greek men are sleeping with each other and the Greek woman is cooking and cleaning for them.
- The two English men are waiting for an introduction to the English woman.
- The two Bulgarian men took one long look at the endless ocean and another long look at the Bulgarian woman and started swimming.
- The two Japanese men have faxed Tokyo and are awaiting instructions.
- The two Chinese men have set up a pharmacy/liquor/store/restaurant/laundry, and have got the woman pregnant to supply employees for their store.
- The two American men are contemplating the virtues of suicide because the American woman is complaining about her body, the true nature of feminism, how she can do everything they can do, the necessity of fulfillment, the equal division of household chores, how sand and palm trees make her look fat, how her last boyfriend respected her opinion and treated her nicer than they do, how her relationship with her mother is improving, and how at least the taxes are lower and it isn't raining.
- The two Irish men have divided the island into North and South and set up a distillery. They do not remember if sex is in the picture because it gets sort of foggy after the first few litres of coconut whisky. But at least they're satisfied because the English are not having any fun

So we don't appear racist, would someone please tell me what would have happened if there were two Australian men and a "shiela" with them. Perhaps they would have missed the boat because they were playing "two up" in the pub while the "shiela was waiting outside with a sherry?
